

FLIERS AND EXHIBITS

BULLETIN BOARD

A bulletin board in the computer area is available for community use. If a relevant date is not present on the flier itself, we ask that patrons write the current date on the back of the flier. Postings will be removed by library staff after the date posted on the front of the flier or one month after the date written on the back.

FLIERS FOR DISTRIBUTION

On the counter by the front Book Sale Area, patrons may leave a stack of fliers, pamphlets, or business cards for the public to take home. To ensure equal space for all, we ask that each person leaves only one stack of materials.

GLASS DISPLAY CASE:

Groups and individuals are welcome to exhibit literary, artistic, historical, or cultural items of their creation or collection. Library space is not available for displays of a political nature.

Available exhibit space includes a locked glass case with two shelves each enclosing a space 11" high, 27" long and 57" wide.

Potential exhibitors may reserve space with library staff up to one year in advance of the desired exhibition date. Exhibits will be approved by library staff.

Exhibitor responsibilities include:

- Setting up the exhibit on the first day of the month and remove it on the last date of the month.
- Providing the Library with current contact information should there be a question about the exhibit
- Displaying prices and including business or personal cards if displaying items for sale. (The library will not be an intermediary between an exhibitor and a buyer. However, upon notification, library staff will mark an item sold. Any items sold during the exhibit must remain on display through the ending date of the exhibit.)

The library adheres to the Library Bill of Rights and its interpretation adopted by the Council of the American Library Association, February 4, 1981, in regard to the display area being made available "on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliation of individuals or groups requesting their use."
